

GOULD CONTROVERSY IS NEARING ITS FINISH LEON LING STILL EVADES VIGILANCE OF POLICE

New York Authorities Order Silence in the Sigel Case

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, June 23.—After a day of conflicting statements, the district attorney's office, acting under instructions from Mr. Jerome, the police department refused tonight to discuss further what progress has been made in the search for Leon Ling, the Chinese wanted for the murder of Elsie Sigel. Neither would they discuss the results of the examination of Chung Sin, Ling's former room-mate, who has been variously reported to have witnessed the crime, to have aided in roping the trunk, and finally merely to have seen the girl's body. There have been hourly reports of clues from all parts of the country, but none brings the authorities any nearer the murderer.

Chung underwent another four hour's cross questioning at the hands of Captain Carey, his men of the homicide bureau, Mr. Ward of the district attorney's office, Quong Yick Nam, a Chinese merchant in whom the police have every confidence, acted as interpreter.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, June 23.—Jules Waterbury, indicted last summer, charged with fraudulent representations, was arrested in New York today by special agents of the department of justice. Using the name of the Associated Press, with which he had no connection, Waterbury is alleged to have obtained from many members of congress and prominent government officials last year sums of money ranging from $50 up. Witnesses Claim That Mrs. Gould Is not a Heavy Drinker

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, June 23.—Counsel for Katherine Clemmons Gould, who is suing her husband for separation and $250,000 a year alimony labored long and late today. It was 11 o'clock tonight when the court adjourned. A night session was granted by Justice Dowling in order to finish the remaining testimony in rebuttal by plaintiff's witnesses, with possible exception of Mrs. Gould herself, but after the session Clarence Shearn announced that he still had two witnesses to call. Tomorrow the deposition of Dustin Farnum will be submitted in Mrs. Gould's behalf. The testimony submitted and depositions read for Mrs. Gould today will tonight be taken as a whole to cover rebuttal of all incidents of various motor trips that she is alleged to have taken to cities in which Farnum was playing. It is also sought to prove that Mrs. Gould drank moderately, principally with meals, that her language was never other than what it should have been.

Ellendale Gets Fairer Day by Day

The expected has happened. The real rush to Ellendale began yesterday and will probably increase, as has been predicted by this paper, until a stampede sets in. Yesterday one of the largest freight teams to leave this camp in many months departed from Tonopah loaded down with provisions for the camp of Ellendale. One of the loads was composed of a lodging house and fittings which is being taken from here to the new camp.

The other loads were made up of lumber and building supplies, which indicates that the people of Ellendale are figuring on erecting substantial business houses.

Malcolm Macdonald yesterday informed a representative of the Bonanza that a general average of the pay streak taken on the original property showed a value of $12,000 to the ton. Mr. Macdonald has started work on his lease on the California No. 2 claim, which adjoins the North Star ground on which the original find was made.

Ed Malley returned from the camp last evening and reports that the hills are alive with prospectors who are working hard to locate pay shoots similar to the one uncovered by the Cliffords. While he was there yesterday, says that nine sacks of high grade ore were extracted from the rich strata. He reports that the ledge, or at least the phenomenally rich part thereof is at the present time about eighteen inches in width. The width of the ledge is as yet unascertained, as the owners have not endeavored to ascertain that information, confining themselves to the extraction of ore. As says which he had made of quartz in which no gold was visible, showed a value of $1600 to the ton.

L. L. Blumenthal leaves for the camp. The object of his visit is to arrange for the immediate starting of work upon his lease which is considerably less than 200 feet from the main strike. Other leases will at once begin work and startling developments may be looked for.

Within the next few days the rush will be well under way. Already Tonopah has seen that there is nothing that can stop it and the town shows the result thereof.

Homer L. Ross, an Iowa by birth and a Nevada by adoption, arrived in Tonopah yesterday from southern California, whither he had gone to spend his summer vacation. Mr. Ross is one of the most consistent boosters of the state in general and Manhattan in particular. He has been located in the northern camp for some time and is firm in the belief that it is going to make one of the best sections in the state.

Mr. Ross is authority for the statement that southern California is becoming intensely interested in Manhattan. While he went there primarily for the purpose of recuperating, he states that his time was almost completely occupied answering questions concerning the possibilities of Manhattan as a placer camp. The news of the recent finds has reached the city of the Angels and has aroused the people to a high tension. Mr. Ross leaves this morning for his home.

POINT OF LAW TAKES UP DAY IN DISTRICT COURT

ATTORNEYS ARGUE CONCERNING ADMISSION OF CERTAIN TESTIMONY.

The Jenks case still occupies the attention of the district court. Yesterday's session was taken up entirely with the argument of counsel as to the introduction of certain testimony. The plaintiffs objected to the defendants introducing oral testimony showing a collateral agreement on the ground that the same came within the statute of fraud. Each side presented its case and cited authorities concerning the point in question. The court took the matter under advisement. It is likely that his honor will render his decision today and the trial will then proceed upon its merits.

The case is attracting considerable attention and is being tried before a jury. It will probably reach the latter body for determination today or tomorrow.
